Accident Rate Drops; Injuries Unchanged

A decline in the number of Quad-City area traffic accidents and injuries which began at the end of May continued during August with a total of 176 mishaps causing injury to 124 persons. One traffic fatality occurred during the month.
The total number of accidents during August is a drop of 25 below the May total of 191, while the 124 injuries of August are 30 less than the May figure of 154. Four persons were injured fatally in the May accidents.
As a result of the declining accident rate, records show a total of 1328 accidents has occurred in the area during the eight months of the year, resulting in 13 fatalities. These figures are a sharp drop below those of the same period of last year. During the first eight months of 1966, there were 1525 mishaps with 23 fatalities.
Oddly enough, the number of injuries during the eight months of this year shows only slight variation from that of a year ago, despite the fact that the number of accidents has dropped substantially. In the 1328 accidents occurring so far this year, 888 persons were injured, according to available statistics. This is a drop only one injury below the 889 injury cases reported last year as a result of the 1525 accidents occurring in the same period.
The 176 accidents reported in the Quad-City area during August is 17 less than the 193 reported in July and 17 less than the 191 reported in June, while the 124 injuries reported in August are six less than reported in July when there were 130 injuries cases. June records also show 130 injuries for that month.
Traffic fatalities have declined by 10 for the eight months of this year, compared to the same period last year. One fatality has been reported this year in each of five months—January, April, June, July and August. Two fatalities each were reported in February and March. The total for the eight-month period was increased to 13 by the four fatalities reported during May.
Last year there were five fatalities in June and five in September, with four fatalities each reported in March, April and August.

August Rainfall Lightest In Years--Only .82 inch

Only .82 of an inch of rainfall was recorded in the Quad-City area during August, the lightest rainfall for a full month in many years.
The slight precipitation, recorded on only two days of the month, increased to 22.39 inches the total fall for the eight months of the year, or 1.5 inches below a normal eight-month rainfall of 24.29 inches.
Rainfall recorded on the rain gauge at the Chain of Rocks canal showed a fall of .30 of an inch on Aug. 18 and .52 of an inch the following day. A trace—insufficient moisture to register on the gauge—was recorded on Aug. 4, Aug. 9 and Aug. 30. This left 26 days of the month without any record of moisture.
August precipitation was a sharp drop below that of the previous month of July when rain fell on 12 days of the month for a total of 5.11 inches. The July fall was 1.91 inches above the July normal of 3.20 inches.
The July precipitation brought the total seven-month rainfall of the year to 21.57 inches, or .39 of an inch above the normal of 21.27 inches for the first seven months of the year. The dry August month again put the area below the normal for the year, however.
Lightest monthly rainfall of any previous month this year occurred in February when the fall totaled 1.85 inch against a normal of 2.04 inches.
In August last year, rainfall for the month totaled 2.86 inches and in August 1965, amounted to 3.44 inches.

Two from Area Given 2-7 Years in Prison

Two area men were sentenced to prison terms of two to seven years in the Menard state penitentiary in Clinton county circuit court at Carlyle after pleading guilty to burglary charges.

They are Robert Forte, 25, of Granite City, and Lonnie Dee Culliver, 25, formerly of the Edwardsville area.
Their applications for probation were denied by Circuit Judge F. K. Dove on the basis of police record information provided by the Granite City department, according to Paul Ragan, Clinton county probation officer.

Forte previously had been charged with armed robbery in 1963 in Granite City, held on a weapons charge in 1963 in Madison and charged with concealed weapons and burglary in Kansas in 1962. He was able to prevent prosecution here by agreeing to move from the state, but he later returned.

Culliver previously was held in St. Louis on suspicion of robbery and in this area for carrying a concealed weapon and illegal possession of liquor.

MORE ABOUT S. Nameoki Rd.

151 from its northernmost terminal point south to Niedringhaus avenue in Granite City will be another project that city expects to be included in the highway department's 1968 work program. Grading of the section has been under way this year.

Scheduling of the paving work is expected to lend support to an attempt to obtain federal funds to obtain federal funds for construction of an underpass or overpass at the Niedringhaus railroad crossing.

Mayor Donald Partney, in announcing renewed plans for a grade separation, pointed out that expansion of the Route 151 paving to Niedringhaus avenue street from 18,000 to 27,000 daily trips after the paving work is completed.

The grade separation will be a critical need to handle the volume of traffic for an estimated period of about three years after the state and federal government can extend Route 151 southward to Venice, the mayor said.

Still Securing R-O-W
Ailes said that he doubts there will be any grading work next year on the stretch from Niedringhaus avenue to Venice. State highway officials still are securing right-of-way. Consequently it will be 1969 before grading work can be undertaken. This would extend into 1970 or 1971 the earliest period in which paving work will be done in that extension.

Mayor Partney's proposal to seek federal help on a grade separation meanwhile brought encouragement from the Granite City Army depot which virtually is hemmed in by railroads, Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, depot commanding officer, notified Mayor Partney that he is in favor of such a project and will lend his full support.

"The improvement of Niedringhaus avenue and 20th street in Granite City," Col. Hoskin said in a letter to the mayor, "will be most advantageous to the Depot. Your plans to propose these roads as part of the Federal Aid Primary system for a connection between FA Route 151 and Illinois Route 162 are strongly supported by me. It is important to point out that Niedringhaus avenue is the only access route for the depot, fighting equipment to all points in the city in support of the reciprocal fire-assistance agreement with Granite City."

Heavy Use of Streets
He said the depot receives monthly truck shipments of 4-350,000 pounds, and ships a monthly average of 3,500,000 pounds of equipment and supplies over Niedringhaus avenue and 20th street. The number of military vehicles using the roads averages about 4200 vehicles per month, of which 840 are for medical purposes to and from Scott Air Force Base. A total of 2400 vehicle trips a work day is made by Depot employees over these roads in commuting to and from work, the colonel said.

Also tied in with the Route 151 project is the Broadway underpass at Venice, a project that was to be completed by Oct. 1 this year under an order by the Illinois Commerce Commission. The job, however, has been delayed for a year and a half by a combination of circumstances.

The Broadway underpass project is a combined city (Venice)-State-Federal program that will place Broadway under the railroad tracks that now create daily traffic problems for motorists headed toward McKinley Bridge. Broadway will tie into Route 151 when it is extended to Venice. The underpass construction was ordered by the Illinois Commerce Commission two years ago, with a Oct. 1, 1967, deadline for completion of construction.

Ailes said the state plan are the substantially completed and that the Broadway underpass, like the Route 151 paving, are expected by district highway officials to be included by the state department on the 1968 work schedule. The work schedule is prepared by highway department officials at Springfield.

Mayor John E. Lee of Venice recently announced that the city's original cost estimate of $420,000 as its share of the underpass cost has increased to $460,000 as a result of the delay in construction. The entire cost increase is represented in general construction cost boosts in materials and labor.

The total underpass cost originally was fixed at $1,200,000, but has increased during the last two years in proportion to the cost boost estimated for the Venice cost.

Warriors in '67 Drills Recall Gridiron Greats of the Past

Which was the greatest Granite City high school football team of all time?

A loaded question, to be sure, with any definite answer subject to considerable debate.

How do you measure a team's greatness? Is it "greatness" measured by the amount of games won and lost, or by its spirit and determination against overwhelming odds?

And, certainly, any attempt to pick a greatest team must be tempered with the realization that the sport has changed dramatically through the years.

First Team in 1921

Since 1921, when "Community High" opened at its present site and inaugurated the sport of football, hundreds and hundreds of boys have done gridiron battle for the "Red and Black," the "Happy Warriors," the "Fighting Warriors."

Probably each player in these years has fond memories of his squad and strong opinions about its greatness.

Over the years, Granite City high school football has won four Southwestern Conference titles (1928-30-32-46) and tied for one championship (1930) in the Madison-S. Clair Athletic Association.

Unofficial State Champs

Of the teams that went through their seasons without losing a single game, the 1928 team was unbeaten and untied in nine games and was declared the unofficial state champion, and the 1930 team was undefeated in ten games although it played two scoreless ties with East St. Louis.

There is no official state championship because not enough elimination games can be played between teams from various regions.

New Coach Byron Borchert, who has given the school its first winning season in 1927, had 110 candidates for the '28 squad. Nicknamed "The Horde," the group included about a third of the total male enrollment and was part of Borchert's "athletics for all" program.

In a pre-season story the Press-Record said, "The squad found the head coach boiling over with indignation yesterday. So far, the players apparently have concluded there is safety in numbers, especially the veterans, and the training rules have been scarcely noticed by many of the candidates. Besides neglecting to get into shape many have been loafing in their classes and the coaches have been swamped with complaints."

But the squad righted itself and enthusiasts ran high. After pilot Bob Supple of the old W.I.L. airport and Borchert dropped hundreds of handbills from the Granite City sky, a record crowd of 2000 saw the Red and Black beat Gillespie 14-6 in the opening game.

Outscore Foes 14-18

The team also rolled over its opponents for the rest of the season, beating Mount Olive 7-0, Belleville 25-6, Wood River 19-0, Collinsville 43-6, Alton 13-0, East St. Louis 12-0, Staunton 18-0 and Edwardsville 32-0. The team scored 148 points and let its foes score only 18.

The sophomore standout on the 1928 crew was Pat Rich, present city treasurer, who went on to become captain of the school's only other undefeated team in 1930.

He had two brothers on the 1928 team, Jimmy, a substitute center, and Ed, a standout back. Other regulars included Capt. Ted Straud, Edgar Caldwell and Rod Shirley, ends; Blackie Dykes, Joe Acquaviva and Oren Morgan, tackles; Sam Gobble and Ed Beshore, guards; Bill Charbonnier, center; and Bud Collins, Francis "Sally" Parker and Tommy Wilson, backs.

This was a team never to be forgotten and its record still stands unmatched today. Never since the year 1928 has a Granite City varsity grid team won all its games.

23 Successful Seasons

Counting the years in which the football Warriors won more games than they lost, and a few 500 season, GCHS has had a successful record in exactly half, 23, of its 46 gridiron years.

The 1967 edition currently in training for its opening game Sept. 15 will be trying to tip the scales to the favorable side by not only winning more than 10 games but winning enough to achieve its first conference championship in 21 years.

Whether defeats can be avoided entirely, as in 1928 and 1930, depends on whether a truly outstanding team can be assembled by the director. Any player violating this rule is to be automatically suspended for the current year.

Plans Made for Flag Football; Teams Needed

Managers and coaches met with the officials of the Granite City Park district, Supt. Harold Brown and Ron Dillard, athletic director, Thursday evening to discuss plans for the upcoming flag football season.

Main purpose was for the coming season. The change of some rules was the highlight of the meeting.

The big change was from a school grade system to classification strictly by age. In the past, the leagues have been organized in a third and fourth grades league, a fifth and sixth grades league, and a seventh grade league.

The Ken Hall League now is to include players who have not attained the age of 10 before Dec. 31 of the current year. The Ken Gray League is to include players who have not attained the age of 12 before Dec. 31.

The final league will be for boys who have not attained 12 before Dec. 31.

As in the past, there will be no entry fee for the football league.

All players who do not participate in park recreation or some type of park program other than baseball will pay $1 for insurance. If the boy lives out of the park district, there is a non-residence fee of $3.

It was decided to adopt the rule that no player is eligible to play with another park district team unless he has secured his release on the official roster sheet from the manager of the team with which he previously signed to play.

The official release must be filed by the releasing manager in the office of the director of parks and recreation and be approved by the director. Any player violating this rule is to be automatically suspended for the current year.

Thus far there have been five teams organized in the 13-year bracket, four teams in the Ken Hall League and nine teams in the Ken Gray League.

More teams and managers are needed in the flag football program, and any interested party may contact Dillard at the park office, TR 7-3059.

Davis Juniors Win Title; 272 Record

Granite City's Davis Funeral Home boys' baseball team finished its season with a 27-2 record and won the crown in the St. Louis Junior Division, capturing two weekend games from Carondelet Park 5-0 and 12-2.

On Saturday night, Donnie Davis pitched a two-hitter to defeat the strong Carondelet team, and Jim Beckner had two hits in three times at bat, including a homer. Bob James had two hits and Bill Jaky garnered two hits, including a double.

Don Rains hit a single and a homer Sunday and Butch Schmidt had two hits. Ron Laws was the winning pitcher, allowing five hits.

Davis finished first in the Granite City Park District league and first in its division of an Illinois traveling league.

If Ron Underwood wins the park district tennis tournament for the third straight year this weekend, he will retire the trophy. The secretaries are Cheryl Orakhood (left) and Rosemarie Lindner.

Park to Try Again to Stage Tennis Tourney

The Granite City park district invitational tennis tournament, which has been postponed twice, will definitely get under way this weekend, reports Harold Brown, park superintendent.

The adult events will begin Saturday afternoon and the younger age-group events will begin that morning. At least four entries must be received by the deadline, noon Friday, for an event to be opened.

Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up in each event. There will be singles and doubles at Wilson Park in the following age-groups: men and women, adult (over 18) and senior (over 35); boys and girls, 18 & under, 16 & under, 14 & under.

Contestants are limited to playing in three events. Referees will be furnished by the park district. The fee is $2.50 for singles and $4 per team for doubles.

Entries should be mailed to Ron Dillard, 2725 Sunset drive. The tournament, originally scheduled to begin Aug. 18, was postponed because of cracks in the Wilson Park courts, and was postponed again, after being rescheduled for Aug. 25, because a resurfacing substance put on the courts failed to harden.

SIU-SW Summer Graduates Told Key to Happiness

The speaker at Southern Illinois University's summer commencement exercises at the Southwest Campus gave nearly 300 graduates his three ingredients for a happy life Friday night.

Stanley Kimball, associate professor of history at SIU-SW, said an individual must love his work, be concerned for his fellowman and have some philosophical or religious motivation.

"To me the greatest goal is to find happiness for one's self and to help others find it for themselves," Kimball told his audience.

"By happiness I do not mean the mindless pursuit of pleasure or pie-in-the-sky but what is sometimes called peace of mind or tranquility."

Enjoy Vacation. Do It Well. Hopefully, the SIU professor said, the graduating students had learned two fundamental things: "What it is to do a job thoroughly enjoying doing, and how to do it well."

Assuming you have learned at least these two things, it is now expected that you will commence applying what you have acquired. My advice is simply to get out and do the best you can, to make a contribution.

"You have had the privilege of several years of expensive education and training; now show your appreciation for these opportunities by magnifying your talents. Do not slip your way through life doing the least and taking the most."

A member of the Mormon faith, Kimball elaborated on this third ingredient for a happy life—"religion, philosophy or simply a way of life," by saying it need not be the "faith of your fathers." What does matter, he said, is that you respect it enough to abide by its tenets.

"You have, hopefully, completed four years of following the admonition of St. Paul in 'proving all things and holding fast that which is good.' Many of you will remember that in class I advised you that if you were not content with whatever philosophy of life you had adopted or inherited, you had better get rid of it and find a better one."

Principles Essential

"Standards, principles, ethics are necessary to the happy life. While it is true that standards, principles and ethics vary from individual to individual, it is easier to build a happy life if one follows some religion or some philosophy rather than playing life by ear."

"It is easier to build on solid rock than upon shifting sand." The commencement exercises were followed by a reception for the graduates by President DeLyle W. Morris.

Scout Troop Planned For Kirkpatrick Homes

Plans to sponsor a Boy Scout troop for youths living in the Granite City housing project were discussed at length Friday morning at a meeting of the Kirkpatrick Homes Improvement Association. A donation to initiate the scouting program was authorized.

Members also voted to reschedule the second annual "Christmas Carnival," a fund-raising event open to the public, from which financial support for various youth programs will in the housing development is derived.

Betty Liddell, association president, reported on a recent excursion to Grant's Farm, in St. Louis county, made by 41 children. Following the bus trip and tour of the farm, the youngsters were treated to refreshments at the Kirkpatrick recreation hall. The outing and post-trip party were arranged by club members, the officer said.

Brothers Battle Police Outside Station

Madison police were aided by officers from Venice and Granite City early this morning in subduing two brothers outside the Madison police headquarters on Third street. Night sticks were brought into play as at least one Madison officer and one Venice patrolman were struck.

Placed under arrest at 2:30 a.m. were Paul D. Lusk, 19, of 34 Garesche Homes, and his brother, Gary Dale Lusk, 18, of the same address. Paul Lusk was charged with interfering with an officer, resisting arrest and assault and battery; while Gary Lusk was charged with disorderly conduct, assaulting an officer and resisting arrest.

Madison police said Gary Lusk had been taken into custody outside a tavern on Fourth street along with Richard Scanlan, 31, of 1310 Washington avenue, Madison, who also was charged with disorderly conduct at 2 a.m., and it was after Gary Lusk was booked on the conduct charge that the fracas began.

Between eight and 10 persons had gathered outside the police station where the incident occurred as Gary Lusk poked Madison Police Sgt. Edward Zabotka in the face.

Paul Lusk was charged by Madison Officer Ronald Grzywacz. Venice Patrolman George Rhodes also was struck by Gary Lusk, according to the reports at both departments.

The brothers were released at 3:30 a.m. today—Paul Lusk on $100 cash bond for a hearing later this month and Gary Lusk on a notice to appear.

Mandatory Kindergarten Signed by Governor

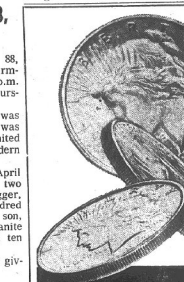

Gov. Kerner on Friday signed into law a bill making kindergarten classes mandatory by 1970. They are now optional, but about 90% of Illinois school districts offer them, including all three Quad-City districts.

He also approved legislation enabling school systems to raise their building fund tax rates, by referendum, from 37½ cents to 75¢ cents if they so maintain.

Other new laws require that counties supply sheriffs with all needed uniforms, guns and ammunition; authorize SIU to form a sewage treatment plant and public water supply operators training institute, and require vehicles and pedestrians to stop rather than proceed cautiously through a steady yellow traffic signal.

Arrested in Venice

A disorderly conduct charge was filed at 3:30 p.m. Friday against James Humble, who allegedly tore a window screen, broke potted plants and damaged the kitchen at the home of his mother, Mrs. Roxie Humble, 1019 Douglas street, Venice.

Peace Corps Worker, Elizabeth Koch, Spends 2 Years in Ghana, Africa

By VALERIE EVENED

The tiny, fragile-looking girl, whose natural light blonde hair still showed sun-whitened streaks from exposure to the hot West African sun, sat calm and cool and discussed such unlikely subjects as military coups, digging latrines and teaching biology at Ghana.

Throughout the lengthy conversation, nothing appeared to disturb the serenity and poise evidenced by Miss Elizabeth Koch as she recounted her experiences, gathered during a two-year stint in Ghana, West Africa, as a member of the United States Peace Corps.

"It was something I wanted to do," she said of her Peace Corps job, "and the total experience was enriching and rewarding. I hope they (the Ghanians) have gained something from me, as I certainly have from my association with them. Teaching is rewarding at anytime and especially under present-day conditions in Africa," she commented.

Daughter of Dr. Koch, A daughter of Dr. Felicia D. Koch, 2641 Edison avenue, and the late Dr. Joseph M. Koch, the recent returnee decided to join the Peace Corps following her graduation from Clarke College at Dubuque, Iowa, where she majored in biology and received a Bachelor of Arts degree.

She attended Sacred Heart parochial school in Granite City, and was graduated from Xavier high school in St. Louis.

ELIZABETH KOCH

Applying to the Peace Corps for admission, Miss Koch specifically requested an assignment in Africa. Her request was granted and, in the early summer of 1965, she joined a group of 45 teachers and 14 geologists, all of whom were to be assigned to West Africa.

Preliminary Training "We spent the first ten weeks in general orientation and physical training at Clarke College in Atlanta, Ga., no connection with my alma mater in Iowa," she commented. "The southern Clark College, besides the difference in spelling, is a division of the University of Atlanta."

"There, we became acquainted with each other and thoroughly familiar with our ultimate destination—Ghana." She said that during the orientation period, groups heading for their respective assignment work and train together as a unit.

"We were required to spend quite a lot of time in physical education activities . . . learning games . . . and in individual conditioning, such as running around a track and doing calisthenics. Nothing too strenuous," she added smiling.

Elderly in Peace Corps Commenting on the number of new college graduates prevalent among Peace Corps volunteers, Miss Koch pointed out that a retired school teacher, in her late sixties, was a member of the Ghana-bound contingent.

"She had retired from her teaching job here at home and elected to join the Peace Corps in order to continue practicing her profession overseas, where her teaching skills still are greatly in demand. I believe Peace Corps program could absorb many more older people whose experience would prove invaluable," the young woman observed.

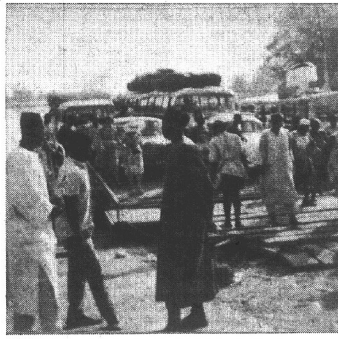

"One of the major problems encountered by the Corps administrators is the increasing demand for a specific type of professional or trained person. Countries mostly request volunteers in the fields of public health, community development or teaching," Miss Koch said.

"The Peace Corps attracts most of its recruits from college campuses as I suppose, the younger person feels freer to go away for the required two-year period. At that age, most are without the responsibilities one assumes in later years," Miss Koch added.

Teacher at Girls' School The local Peace Corps volunteer left the United States in September 1965 and, on arrival in Ghana, was assigned as a teacher at a girls' secondary school (high school) at Cape Coast, a community of about 40,000, approximately 80 miles from the capital city of Accra.

The school which became her home for most of the next two years was a white stucco, two-walled garden, wide lawn and heavy foliage trees. The institution was founded in the early 1800s by the Methodist Church.

Since Ghana was granted complete independence by Britain in July 1960, the school has been financed with state funds, Miss Koch explained. However, some funds still are contributed toward its support by the founding church and other outside groups. The Republic of Ghana is considered to be among the wealthiest of the merging African nations, she said. The former Gold Coast State, a British colony until given full independence in 1951 and full Commonwealth status in 1957, is rich in mineral wealth and ranks fifth in the world in production of diamonds, mostly industrial types, sixth in production of gold and seventh in manganese.

Leading Cocoa Producer The West African country is the world's leading cocoa producer and exports over 400,000 tons annually, about 40% of the world's output. Although its resources are rich, Ghana needs the technical abilities of the outside world to develop its future.

Under the Ghana educational system, modeled upon the British system, pupils may enter a non-technical high school after successfully completing a general examination at 11-or-12-years of age. The Peace Corps volunteer explained.

Students are then required to pass another examination as fifth formers to qualify them to study a further two years in the lower and upper sixth forms. Their concentrated two years study of three subjects as fifth formers determines whether or not they qualify for admission to one of Ghana's three universities, she said.

Cape Coast has seven such secondary level schools, Miss

Flagstaff Building in Accra, where Nkrumah's Russian and Chinese advisers and technical assistants were concentrated," Miss Koch said. She noted that subsequently the NCL expelled all Communist Chinese and East German teachers and technicians from Ghana.

Bloodless Coup Earlier this year, she said, another minor coup, attempted by an Army officer proved unsuccessful. "This too was without bloodshed and the political situation was quite peaceful when I departed last month."

Describing her duties at the school, Miss Koch said she taught general science to first and second formers (12-13-year-olds) and biology to third through fifth formers (14-17 years).

Cape Coast has seven such secondary level schools, Miss

Koch said. Her own school had a student population of 520 and a faculty of 30 teachers. Most of the teaching staff were Indian, Pakistani, American, British and other foreign nationals, she commented.

Also Games Instructor In addition to teaching academic subjects, the local girl found herself cast in the role of games (sports) instructor. "Although I'd had little experience in this area, I discovered myself coaching track, throwing the discus and other sports."

One of the more humorous aspects of her brief coaching career came about last year when she found herself assigned as coach of the school's field hockey team. "Never having seen the game in my entire life, it wasn't too easy," she admitted.

"The girls were good players and apparently had an earlier well-coached background in the sport, as surprisingly our team ended the season as district champions. I'm still not quite sure how we did it," she said. Additionally, she taught Red Cross first aid courses to her charges. "This type of instruction really proved useful, as the fourth and fifth form students, accompanied by Peace Corps personnel, were sent to various work camps in less civilized areas of Ghana."

Throughout Countryside "The Ghanians study themselves work with the villagers and teach them to build sanitation facilities and help with various of the more remote villages, Miss Koch found her own improvements." In white skin she seemed to be an amazement to the younger children, who would run to her and, with great daring, touch her arm.

To aid the country's economy, the huge Akosombo hydroelectric project on the Volta River, partly financed by the United States, was completed in 1965. Miss Koch said. The project will serve Ghana's first giant industry, an aluminum reduction plant near the port of Tema, built and owned by U. S. companies.

On a visit to the Upper Volta dam area, the Peace Corps worker noted that the project carries an international influence with contributions to its construction being made by Czechs, Italians, Americans, British and other nations. "At the present time for instance, Canadian technicians are training the Ghanians to operate the complex project," Miss Koch said.

While in Ghana, the Peace Corps volunteer took advantage of several short leave periods to visit other African countries. Traveling by air, Miss Koch visited Morocco and the Canary Islands, the Republic of Dahomey and Togo Republic; Kenya and Tanzania, formerly known as Tanganyika and Zanzibar, and Nigeria.

"I believe the Peace Corps concept fills a large gap in the needs of new nations—helping them to help themselves," she said. "When one goes away to learn about another country, you get a much better perspective of one's own," Miss Koch commented.

Her future plans are uncertain, although she expressed a desire to visit or work in Australia. For the present, she is assisting her physician mother in the latter's downtown office and learning to re-adjust herself to a life far different than she has lived for the past two years.

Date Set for Legal Services Conference

Maurice S. Harris, director of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, today announced a Legal Services Conference will be held Thursday, Sept. 14, at Southern Illinois University - Southern campus.

The event will be co-sponsored by the county EOC, the Legal Services Society and the Division of National Affairs of Southern Illinois University.

Harris said the conference is designed to acquaint the general public, but especially ministers, personnel staff members, social workers, teachers, and others who work with people with the legal problems of the poor.

"Heretofore, the poor have been victimized by every type of unscrupulous person known to our society," the county anti-poverty director remarked. "These persons range from the landlord to the corner grocer, from the furniture dealer to the door-to-door salesman," he continued.

"It is our hope that through this conference, we can focus attention on one of the most pressing problems of the disadvantaged person or family and, thereby, raise up a general sense of interest and concern which by its size, may enlarge support for civil legal aid for poor persons."

The day-long conference will include a luncheon, Harris said. Reservations may be made by calling 656-8240, or by mailing a check for $2.50 to the Madison County EOC, 142-A North Main street, Edwardsville. Checks should be made payable to the Madison County Legal Services Commission, the director noted.

Speaking to more than 30 Illinois business, industry and government representatives, he said the utility's survival program is geared primarily for natural disasters, such as storms or tornadoes, but that it can also function in case of nuclear attack.

The seminar was co-sponsored by the University of Illinois, the Illinois Civil Defense Agency and the U. S. Army office of Civil Defense. It was entitled "C.I.D. for its triple purpose of aiding business, industry and government."

Because the company's resources are not concentrated in any one area, they may be transferred to areas affected by disasters, he said.

Packets of Information
Locked in storage vaults in the 13 service districts in Illinois, Mathias said, are packets of information which can be given to work crews unfamiliar with the area in case of an emergency.

Included among the information in the packets, he said, are maps, lists of electrical and gas circuits in the emergency sectors and lists of personnel who can be reassigned to other jobs.

Mathias said that IPC could not guarantee that a major disaster as those which occurred in the east would never happen,

Clergy to be Informed On Mental Health Care

Plans for a second day-long "Conference for Clergy on Mental Health" will be held Oct. 23 at SIU southwestern campus. A pilot conference of this type, also designed to reach Madison County ministerial representatives and a limited number of clergy in outlying areas, was held in Belleville on May 25.

Mental health professionals will give talks and hold discussions intended to make the clergy more knowledgeable as to what mental health facilities are available in Madison County.

Registration is limited to 125 persons. Interested persons may phone Al Trampe of Granite City, 877-4400.

As insight is gained into the numerous problems surrounding mental health, ministers will be able to screen the particular needs of their parishioners, or direct and refer them to such programs as the out-patient treatment at the Mental Health Clinic; alcoholic treatment centers; or counseling by a specific staff member at the clinics or the Alton State Hospital, a spokesman for the planning commission commented.

The planning committee hopes for a chain reaction of interest at this meeting, which will institute programming similar conferences into neighboring counties of the state.

Con Men Bilks Woman Of $20 in Office

Barbara Castillo, 2911 Oregon avenue, reported at 1:40 a.m. Friday that last Tuesday a man entered her place of employment at the Domestic and Commercial Sheet Metal Co., 1615 Twenty-first street, said he represented "The Sheriff's Yearbook," accepted a $20 check and left.

The board also authorized first steps to retain an independent consultant to make a survey of existing facilities, to determine such an authority and to propose means for the proposed authority to acquire existing airports.

The action was based on recommendations made earlier last week by the council's Airport committee which has been studying the idea for an area airport authority since last June.

To List Consultants

Eugene Moody, executive director of the Gateway Council, said he will prepare a list of consultants available for such a study, along with details of what a consultant will be expected to do, and present it to the board in its next meeting Sept. 27.

Mayor A. J. Cervantes of St. Louis told the board, "I don't want this group spending a lot of money getting a survey and duplicating what already has been done if there is no intention of purchasing Lambert Field and paying the city of St. Louis what it is worth."

Mayor Cervantes recently offered to sell Lambert Field to the city of St. Louis, but any airport authority that might be established, but said St. Louis would expect to be paid what it is worth.

The board also voted in the Thursday afternoon session to enlarge the membership of both the board of directors and the council. The board voted to adopt a proposal made by Mayor Alvin G. Fields of East St. Louis.

Under the proposal the board would be increased from the present eight members to consist of the 13 voting members of the present 17-member Council. The council could be increased to a potential membership of 178 since it offers Gateway Council membership to the elected heads of all municipalities in the six-county area covered by the council.

The Gateway Council serves the same area as the Bi-State Development Agency—St. Louis, St. Charles and Jefferson counties in Missouri, plus the City of St. Louis, and Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties in Illinois.

Airport Authority Plan Approved by Gateway Council

The eight-man board of directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council approved in principal Thursday afternoon a proposal to establish a metropolitan airport authority to administer airports and aviation facilities throughout the area.

The board also authorized first steps to retain an independent consultant to make a survey of existing facilities, to determine such an authority and to propose means for the proposed authority to acquire existing airports.

The action was based on recommendations made earlier last week by the council's Airport committee which has been studying the idea for an area airport authority since last June.
